A new gift collection requires new concepts & ideas and by launching our brand, we have rethought our product range and gifting strategy from the ground up.

Sustainability is not something arbitrary to just tick off from our CSR & ESG initiatives, but rather something that we need to incorporate into our daily lives and activities.

Giving gifts forms an integral part of both our personal and professional lives and a changing world merits a change in our daily lives so why not start by making that change in the art of giving gifts?

We have incorporated the essence of sustainability into our entire EcoSustain range by using sustainable raw materials like bamboo, wheat straw, rPET, cork, and various others to form the bulk of our product collection.

We have also been working with our suppliers and partners to incorporate sustainability into every step of the supply chain starting right from product design all the way up to sustainable delivery solutions that minimize our carbon footprint.

We would love to share our sustainable gift collection with you and we hope it inspires you to

BE THE CHANGE YOU WISH TO SEE IN THE WORLD!

Why is Bamboo the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- Bamboo is a highly sustainable plant. Bamboo can grow to full size in just 3-4 months, compared to standard trees which can take 30+ years to grow.
- Bamboo fibers are naturally anti-bacterial and do not need any toxic chemical treatments. Bamboo forests have positive benefits for the environment as this incredibly productive plant efficiently stores carbon.

Why is rPET the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- rPET, short for recycled polyethylene terephthalate, refers to any PET material from a recycled source rather than the original, unprocessed petrochemical feedstock.
- In fact, a study has shown that rPET can lead to a reduction in greenhouse gas emissions by more than 79% compared to virgin PET. Recycling PET into the production of gift products is the ideal solution to counteract the damaging effects of disposing of PET products which contributes to harming the environment.

Why is Cork the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- Harvesting cork bark assists in the absorption of CO₂—a greenhouse gas that causes climate change. Harvested cork trees absorb 3-5 times more CO₂ than non-harvested trees.
- Cork is a natural, environmentally friendly material. It bio-degrades completely and can be easily recycled without producing any toxic residues. It is an antimicrobial substance and it is dirt-repellent making it perfect for corporate gifts.

Why is Wheat Straw the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- Wheat Straw is entirely biodegradable. It can be composted easily at home or in city programs making it entirely renewable and sustainable. The material is naturally sturdy, so it requires few toxins and oils in the production process.
- The production of regular plastic leads to a lot of energy consumption and Co₂ emissions whereas wheat straw plastic utilizes much less energy and has far fewer emissions.

Why using sustainable paper notebooks is vital in this day and age?

- Using sustainable paper is an essential part of protecting the environment as paper is one of the most widely used components in most of the items in our daily lives.
- Therefore, at Genesis, we have come up with our own sustainable notebook range with Schwarzwald-branded & FSC-certified notebooks. These are manufactured by suppliers who use paper that is Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certified, which indicates that the paper was produced responsibly.

Why reusable bags are vital in this day and age?

- Using single-use plastic bags is incredibly harmful to the environment. Plastic bags are often used for just a short time period, but they can take hundreds of years in landfills to break down.
- When you use 10 lightweight plastic bags each week on average over a two-year period, there is three times the greenhouse gas impact in comparison to a reusable bag.
- Using reusable bags made of different materials like jute, non-woven, bamboo, etc. helps reduce the carbon footprint. They are also usually strong, durable, and reliable and can be used for long periods of time.

Why is recycled leather the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- Recycled leather is a composite of polyurethane and waste leather scraps that are left behind in the production process of leather, making it a great alternative to producing new leather products.
- Diverting leather waste from ending up in landfills leads to lowering our carbon footprint and saving scarce water resources.
- Recycled leather is lightweight, fairly durable, and low maintenance compared to genuine leather and requires fewer cleaning agents in the production process, making it a great addition to the corporate gifting industry.

Why coffee grounds are the perfect sustainable material for gifts?

- Over 2.25 billion coffee cups are consumed around the world daily which amounts to about 2.5 cups a person daily, which leads to large amounts of coffee grounds ending up in landfills.
- This leads to the emission of various greenhouse gases like methane, which has a devastating impact on our environment. Why Not Make Use Of This Waste Product Instead? The grounds can instead be diverted from landfills to new industrial applications like the production of corporate gifts.
